

EmpathyLab

Dear Parents,

At Parc Lewis Primary School we are just beginning an exciting new reading project called EMPATHYLAB. All children from Nursery to Year 6 will take part in the project. We have purchased a large selection of picture books and novels with stories and poems that focus on developing empathy skills.

Empathy is a skill that can be learned. We hope to raise a generation of empathetic individuals who care for each other and are able to see things from the point of view of others. Research has shown that empathy is key to children's emotional well-being, their behaviour and academic achievement.

As part of the project, we would kindly ask you to complete a quick online survey. This will help us understand what you as parents already know about empathy.

Thank you so much for your support.
